Lunchtime Seminar

Rev. Prof. Józef Niewiadomski

Head of the Institute of Systematic Theology
University of Innsbruck, Austria

The Innsbruck “Dramatic Theology” Project and the Legacy of Fr Raymund Schwager SJ

Prof. Niewiadomski is the recent Dean of the Institute of Systematic Theology at Innsbruck and a leader in the Institute’s research program on “Dramatic Theology”. This project takes its inspiration from the work of the Jesuit theologian, Raymund Schwager (1935-2004). Schwager engaged creatively with H. U. von Balthasar’s Theodramatic, R. Girard’s mimetic theory, and the insights of social and natural sciences, to develop an “interdisciplinary paradigm for doing theology in the service of a peaceful society.”

Fr Józef is currently enjoying a sabbatical term in Melbourne, based at the Jesuit Theological College, Parkville.
