ANNOUNCEMENT OF FACULTY

The Provost of Trinity College, Mr Campbell Bairstow, is delighted to announce the faculty of the new Trinity College Theological School from January 2015. These appointments accompany the School’s new status as a College of the University of Divinity.

The Revd Prof Dorothy Lee  BA(Hons), BD(Hons), DipEd, PhD
Frank Woods Professor of New Testament, and Dean

Dorothy has been running the Theological School for more than three years and, during this time, has been active in lecturing, preaching and teaching in the Diocese of Melbourne and beyond. She continues her academic research and lecturing in New Testament, with a particular focus on the Gospels, and is deeply interested in issues of biblical theology and biblical spirituality. She is well published in her field.

The Revd Dr Stephen Burns  BA(Hons), MA, CertTheolMin, MLitt, PhD
Stewart Distinguished Lecturer in Liturgical & Practical Theology, Formation Coordinator & Associate Dean

Stephen is an experienced priest and theological educator, who was ordained in England and has British-Australian citizenship. He is currently Associate Professor of Liturgy and Anglican Studies at Episcopal Divinity School, Boston, USA. He brings a strong commitment to Anglican formation and wide ecumenical relationships, and has published widely in his field. He will teach liturgy and pastoral theology, and be responsible for formation.

The Revd Dr Don Saines  BAgEc, BThHons, DipMin, GradCertHE, PhD
Farnham Maynard Senior Lecturer in Systematic Theology, and Coursework Coordinator

Don comes to us with considerable experience in the Australian theological scene. A previous Dean of Gippsland Cathedral, he has taught theology in Anglican and ecumenical settings for many years. His particular interest is in the nature of the Church, and the theology which flows from an understanding of the Church’s role in the drama of salvation. He will teach in the areas of systematic theology and ethics.

The Revd Professor Mark Lindsay  BA(Hons), GradDipTheol, PhD
Joan F.W. Munro Professor of Historical Theology, and Research Coordinator

Mark’s field is historical theology, where he has gained an international reputation for his work on Karl Barth, Dietrich Bonhoeffer, and Jewish-Christian relations. For the last decade, he has worked as Director of Research at the MCD/University of Divinity. He brings a wealth of experience in the University sector as well as his historical and theological expertise. He will teach units in history and theology.
The Revd Cecilia Francis  LicACST, BTheol
Emily Gavan Lecturer in Practical Theology, and Supervised Theological Field Education Coordinator

Cecilia is an Anglican priest with extensive experience in various forms of ministry. Her passion is for the integration of theology and the practice of ministry, a passion reflected in her doctoral work on the Trinity. She is qualified at the highest level in supervisory practice in pastoral education and is a very able administrator. She will have responsibility for Supervised Theological Field Education and teach in pastoral theology, and is currently completing her DMinStud at the University of Divinity.

The Revd Jasmine Dow  BTheol, DipAnglicanOrders, MTheol
Noel Carter Associate Lecturer in Practical Theology, and Certificate Coordinator

Jasmine’s area of interest is practical theology, and particularly the nexus between worship and mission. She is an early career scholar who brings considerable enthusiasm to her teaching and is strongly committed to education for the whole people of God. She and Cecilia will be working together; the other part of her life is working part-time for the Australian Board of Mission. She will teach in practical theology and spirituality, and is currently enrolled in a PhD at the University of Divinity.

Dr Peter Campbell  JP, BEc, BA, MMus, GradDipLib&InfoMgt, PhD, AALIA
Registrar

Peter is a very highly qualified administrator who has worked at Trinity College for a number of years, and has recently joined the Theological School as its Registrar. His own training has been in economics and musicology, with a particularly interest in Australian music. He is an experienced choral singer and composer. In addition to his duties as Registrar, he will be teaching a new unit in Church Music.

Other Faculty
The Theological School Faculty includes also four Mission Partners, who are involved in the teaching and worship life of Trinity:

The Revd Dr Craig D’Alton, St Mary’s Lecturer in Anglican Studies
The Ven Dr Brad Billings, St John’s Toorak Lecturer in New Testament and Early Christianity
The Revd Dr Hugh Kempster, the St Peter’s Eastern Hill Lecturer in Spirituality
The Revd Dr Richard Trelor, the Christ Church South Yarra Lecturer in Old Testament and Ministry Studies.

The Revd Canon Dr Ray Cleary AM will continue, on a sessional basis, as the Sambell Lecturer in Public Theology. In addition, the Theological School also has an impressive Adjunct Faculty who teach on an occasional basis and generously support the School’s life and work.
